Guerrero, along with his trainer and father Ruben Guerrero, have put together another successful camp in the Bay Area as Robert looks to earn another opportunity at the top fighters in the sport. Here is what Guerrero had to say about his matchup, training camp and more:

On fighting in a special weekend edition of MMA and Boxing on Spike...

"It's going to be a great weekend of fights on Spike. On Friday, you got top level MMA fighters like Benson Henderson throwing down. He's always giving the fans their money's worth. On Saturday, you got Alfredo Angulo and myself, who always bring excitement to the ring. We're never in boring fights. All in all, there's going to be a lot of action packed fights that weekend. Everyone should be tuning in that's for sure."

On his recent training camp...

"There's been a lot of hard work that's been put into this recent training camp. My dad and I have been grinding daily to get ready for this fight. It's been a productive camp though. I got a lot of rounds sparring with top guys. I'm in tip top shape and ready to go."

On facing tough Argentine David Emanuel Peralta...

"Anytime you're facing a fighter from Argentina you know you're in for a tough fight. Peralta knows this is his chance to make a name for himself so I know he's coming with his very best. He's had a lot of time to prepare for this fight but I'll be well prepared for anything he brings. He's going to realize once he's in the ring with me that I'm not some washed up fighter like some may think. I got plenty of fight left in me and Peralta will find out what I'm all about on August 27th."

On the importance of coming out victorious...

"It's very important that I win this fight at all cost. The welterweight division has plenty of good fighters that I want to get in the ring with. So it's a must that I win this fight. I'm not taking Peralta lightly. I'm coming to win and win impressively."

On fighting in Anaheim at the Honda Center...

"Anytime you're fighting in Southern California, you know the fans are going to be passionate about the fights. They love to see a lot of action and that's exactly what they'll see when I step in the ring. The Honda Center is a top level venue where the fans will all have a great seat. I'm looking forward to fighting in front of the SoCal fans once again."
