LAS VEGAS – April 7, 2026 – Undefeated rising Mexican star Isaac “Puro México” Lucero plans to deliver “all-out war” for fight fans when he faces fellow unbeaten Alan Sandoval kicking off the Benavidez vs. Zurdo PBC Pay-Per-View event available on Prime Video taking place Saturday, May 2 from T-Mobile Arena in Las Vegas.

The Cinco de Mayo Weekend pay-per-view lineup begins at 8 p.m. ET/5 p.m. PT and will lead into the first of its kind Mexico vs. Mexico duel between undefeated two-division world champion David “El Monstro” Benavidez and unified WBA and WBO Cruiserweight World Champion Gilberto “Zurdo” Ramirez in the main event.

The event is promoted by Golden Boy Promotions and Sampson Boxing in association with TGB Promotions.

In addition to the PPV being available for purchase on Prime Video, regardless of Prime membership, fans will also be able to purchase the PPV via DAZN.com. On top of those options, fans will also be able to continue to access the telecast through traditional cable and satellite outlets.

A native of Baja California Sur, Lucero (18-0, 14 KOs) will step in for a 10-round super welterweight showdown against Nochistlan’s Sandoval (30-0-1, 19 KOs) following a dominant eight-round stoppage in December against veteran Roberto Valenzuela Jr. Trained in Las Vegas by renowned trainer Bob Santos, here is what Lucero had to say about May 2, training camp and more:

On his matchup with Alan Sandoval Gutierrez:

“Gutierrez comes from a part of Mexico that I’m very familiar with, so I know he’s coming to fight, he’s true warrior who carries himself with confidence. I respect what he has accomplished, but I also believe this is the kind of fight that reveals who is truly ready to take the next step. Styles will play a major role, and I see opportunities where my precision, patience, and execution will be the difference. This is going to be an all-out war!”

On his recent training camp in Las Vegas with Bob Santos:

“My time in Las Vegas with coach Bob Santos has been very productive. Bob is a teacher of the sport in the truest sense, he refines not only your technique, but your understanding of what it takes to be a champion. This camp has been about elevating every detail. We’ve focused on discipline, championship mentality, and ring intelligence. I feel more complete as a fighter and I’m ready for this challenge. There is a quiet confidence that comes from preparation at the highest level.”

On fighting in Las Vegas during Cinco de Mayo Weekend on an all-Mexican card on PPV:

“To fight in Las Vegas on Cinco de Mayo Weekend, on a card that celebrates Mexican fighters, is both an honor and a responsibility. This is a moment that carries me on to the global stage, it represents pride, history, and identity. To perform on this stage is something I do not take lightly. I intend to represent my country with dignity, with heart, and with a performance that reflects the tradition of Mexican boxing. Puro Mexico!”

On what a win will do for his career and his people back home in Mexico:

“A victory in this fight would be significant, not only for my career but for the people who have supported me from the beginning. I come from Baja California Sur, Mexico, and I carry that with me into every fight. This moment is about opening doors for myself, for my team, and for young fighters who are watching and believing that they can follow a similar path. Success is never individual...it belongs to everyone who has invested their faith in you. I want to give them something to be proud of.”
